

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Adolph C. Frey was in Pittsburgh on business this week.

Wm. B. Tressler of Springs, Pa., is another new recruit to The Spirit's subscription list.

John W. Livengood, of Elk Lick township, Pa., was marketing potatoes in Frostburg to-day.

Eli S. Miller, a prominent farmer residing between Grantsville and Salisbury, was transacting business in Frostburg to-day.

G. Dudley, Nicholas T. and Miss Mary Hocking have returned home after a brief visit to their brother, Dr. William C. Hocking, Duquesne, Pa.

The venerable George W. Blocher, one of Garrett county's grand old men, orders The Spirit sent to him at Sutton, Md., instead of Frostburg, as heretofore.

Howard Yaist, of Elk Lick township, Pa., orders The Spirit sent to his address for a year. He says The Spirit looks good to him and also reads good. Mr. Yaist is a former Marylander.

Hon. James Campbell, of Baltimore, Md., orders The Spirit sent to his address for a year. Mr. Campbell is a former resident of Barton, this county, and has served in the Maryland Legislature.

Mrs. Eda B. Krouse, of Havre de Grace, Md., who is the National Order Guard of the Daughters of Liberty, made a trip to Frostburg this week to attend a meeting of Star of America Council, No. 2, on Friday evening.

Rev. W. W. Wagner, Mrs. Silas A. Wagner and J. T. Smeadman, are Salisbury people that were seen in Frostburg this week. They were in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Charles Wright, an account of whose death appears elsewhere in this paper.

Ed. Jenkins recently returned from a sojourn over in Pennsylvania, where he did some prospecting for coal on the farm of his father-in-law, Richard Glodfelty, who resides about one mile east of Salisbury. Mr. Jenkins reports finding several pretty good veins of coal on the Glodfelty farm.

Miss Marion M. Mason, of Cresson, Pa., orders $1.00 worth of copies of The Spirit, any date. Miss Mason writes that she has learned of The Spirit, and its editor from a former resident of Frostburg, who speaks well of us. The Spirit thanks both Miss Mason and the unknown booster.

The Spirit is under obligations to Prof. Edw. F. Webb, the efficient principal of the Frostburg State Normal School, for two complimentary tickets, calling for admission to the world-famous painting, "The Last Supper," now on exhibition at the State Normal School Assembly room.

H. C. Staub, for a long time foreman of the Meyersdale Commercial printer, joined the force at The Spirit office on Tuesday. Years ago, before type-setting machines were invented, Mr. Staub was one of the speediest news compositors in the entire country. He is a fast one yet on a news case, although getting along in years.

Mrs. Kate Cunningham and three children, of Pittsburgh, Pa., arrived here last Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Cunningham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Parker, of Standish street. They will remain about two weeks. Mrs. Cunningham will also visit her sister, Mrs. Clifton Winner, at Gleason, W. Va., before returning home. Mrs. Winner has for some time been very ill.

Mrs. F. O. Livengood, of Somerset, Pa., in renewing the family subscription to The Spirit, informs the editor that her husband is in poor health, which we regret very much. Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Livengood are numbered among our kindest and most valued friends, and they are also numbered among Somerset's most highly esteemed old couples, and their friends are legion.

Lawrence Hitchins, manager of the Frostburg Opera House, favored The Spirit with two complimentary admissions to the Mutt & Jeff show, which appeared in the Opera House this week and drew a large audience that was much pleased with the show. Mutt & Jeff always take well in Frostburg, and the management of the Frostburg Opera House will have many good companies here during the next few months.

She Knows a Bargain.

Mrs. L. J. West, of Middlebourne, W. Va., has our thanks for a remittance of $3.25 to pay two years' subscription to The Spirit and one year to each of the following named magazines: Fancy Work Magazine, Gentlewoman, and To-Day's, with free pattern.

Mrs. West knows a bargain when she sees it, and we have a big lot of bargains enumerated in our big "ad" on 7th page.

Clara Pyle Ewing Will Give Recital. Clara Pyle Ewing, the talented elocutionist of the Frostburg State Normal School, will give a recital in the Frostburg Opera House, Monday evening, Nov. 2nd. This lady ranks among the best of elocutionists, and those who go to hear her will be delighted. She is a graduate of King's School of Oratory, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Wilmington School of Elocution, of Wilmington, Del.

Mother of Popes.

Bologna seems entitled to the claim of the mother of popes. Its institutions have furnished the world with seven supreme pontiffs, and it was the birthplace of five more.

Mrs. Charles Wright Dead.

The subject of this sketch, who was well known to many of the people of Frostburg and vicinity, died at the home of her son-in-law, Norman Wilhelm, in Greenville township, Pa., last Saturday afternoon, aged 63 years, 5 months and 10 days. She was the widow of the late Charles Wright, who died less than a year ago. Mr. and Mrs. Wright lived on the Curtin Graham farm, near this city, for many years, but some years ago moved to Somerset county, Pa., where they lived until their death.

Deceased is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Wilhelm, and several sons. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. W. W. Wagner, of Salisbury, Pa., Tuesday forenoon, at the Wilhelm home, and burial was made in Alleghany Cemetery, this city.

Up-to-Date Garrett County Farmer.

In remitting for extra copies of this week's Spirit, Leo J. Beachy, a son of Jonas J. Beachy, a prominent farmer of near Grantsville, Md., writes as follows:

"Send me via the medium of The Spirit a report of the Frostburg Fair. I sent some heaven-distilled nectar fit for the Gods from my apiary for exhibit, some fancy work for cousins Lula and Ethel Warnick, and some photographic work of my own was exhibited that took first prize at Oakland. Sister Kate, I learn, took first prize on celery, and also on 'Mt. Nebo Red' apple. So we are anxious for a full report.

"There are seventeen newspapers coming to our home regularly. We used to enjoy reading your Somerset County Star."

Her French Failed.

Mrs. Smith had been a hard student for months, and, proudly conscious that "she knew a little French," she sallied forth from the hotel in Paris to post a letter.

"A poste," she exclaimed triumphantly to the first policeman she met. "Blen, madame. Par ici."

He politely conducted her into an office, but to her dismay it was a police station. Rendered speechless by fright and confusion, all she could do was to pull her letter out of her pocket and point to it.

"Ah! A la poste," cried the commissaire laughingly, and he instructed the officer to take her to the nearest post office. Going along, poor, disconcerted Mrs. Smith muttered to herself: "Oh, bother genders! Who'd have thought a police station was a gentleman and a postoffice a lady?"—London Standard.

A Doubtful Compliment.

Landon Ronald, the noted musician, tells the following story against himself: "I went into my club one day, looked into the reading room and saw a great friend of mine talking to one of the ugliest men I have ever seen in my life. My friend called me over and, much to my regret, as I dislike ugly things in life, introduced me to the man in question. He turned out to be quite a decent fellow and paid me the usual silly compliments which all professionals receive. I conversed with him about five minutes, and when I had had enough he reiterated the statement that he was delighted to have met me, being one of my greatest admirers, and added, 'In any case, Mr. Ronald, I was most anxious to know you because I am always being mistaken for you!'—London Globe.

Couldn't Find It.

A trial took place recently before a colored jury. The twelve gentlemen of color were told by the judge to retire and "find a verdict."

They departed for the jury room. Then began the opening and shutting of drawers, the slamming of doors and other sounds of unusual commotion. Every one wondered what the trouble was.

At last the jury came back into the court, and the foreman arose and said: "We hab looked eberywhar, in the drawers and behind the do, an' can't find no verdict. It warn't in de room."—National Monthly.

Lemon Baths.

In the West Indies a lemon bath is almost a daily luxury. Three or four limes or lemons are sliced into the water and allowed to lie for half an hour in order that the juice may be extracted. A remarkable sense of freshness is given to the skin.—Pearson's Weekly.

Her Usual Remark.

"What did Mame say when her father gave her that new gold watch?" asked me glumly one girl.

"Oh, the same thing that she always says. She remarked that she was having a perfectly lovely time."—Exchange.

Making a New One.

"I understand Bogsworth's boy is making a name for himself."

"Which one?"

"Clarence Augustus."

"He had to."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Eugenics.

"Have you any taste for eugenics, Mrs. Comeup?"

"I've never tried 'em. Do they taste best fried or boiled?"—Baltimore American.

SPIRIT WILL MOVE

Soon to Occupy Larger and More Suitable Quarters in Frostburg Opera House Building.

The Spirit expects to be in new quarters by Nov. 1st, where it will have more room to grow and spread out. Its present quarters are very unsatisfactory, and more suitable quarters have been secured in the Frostburg Opera House building, where it will occupy the room recently vacated by the C. & W. E. Railway Co., as well as the basement beneath it, which is now being remodeled for that purpose. An important announcement will soon be made relative to our new move, which will have more than ordinary interest in it for the whole town.

The move, however, means a big lot of immediate expense, which, of course, means that we have immediate need of the large amount of money due us on subscription. We regret to say that many of our patrons who are able to pay promptly are not doing so, presumably through mere oversight, and we trust that all who read this notice and have $1.50 or more to spare on subscription will lose no time in favoring us with the money, which we are badly in need of. Remember, our terms are cash in advance and that The Spirit is now well into the second year of its existence. So cash up and overlook all shortcomings of the paper in its present unsettled condition. Getting ready to move and getting out a newspaper at the same time is a great hardship.

A RARE TREAT.

World-Famous Painting Now on Exhibition in Frostburg.

"The Last Supper," the world-famous painting by W. H. Leavitt, is now on exhibition at the State Normal Assembly room and is attracting many people. No one should miss seeing it, as it is a most wonderful and interesting production.

This famous painting is valued at $100,000 and covers a canvas 15x22 feet. It took Mr. Leavitt five years to paint it. It has been exhibited with great success in France, England, Ireland and in many Universities, Churches and Y. M. C. A.'s in the United States.

Such things as this do not often come to towns the size of Frostburg. For further particulars, see advertisement of the big painting, on 2nd page, this paper.

TWO COUNTY BANKS IN ## STATE ROLL OF HONOR.

Two banking institutions of Alleghany county are included in the roll of honor of the state banks and trust companies prepared by the State Banking Department of those institutions which show surplus and undivided profits in excess of the capital stock. Forty banks throughout the state are included.

The banking institutions of Alleghany county are the Lonaconing Savings Bank standing fourth, and the Fidelity Savings Bank of Frostburg, which is twenty-eighth. The capital of the first named is $20,000, with surplus and undivided profits of $68,547.96, and of the latter $25,000, with surplus and undivided profits of $31,586.62.

She Likes the Russell Sermons.

Mrs. J. F. Miller, of Cumberland, Md., writes to The Spirit as follows: "I am pleased to notice that you are publishing the Pastor Russell sermons in full, and hope that you will continue to do so."

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Spirit aims to carry special features as may interest a considerable number of its readers, and no feature of the paper is more eagerly read than are the Russell sermons by at least 200 of The Spirit's readers, who are either members of the International Bible Students' Association or in sympathy with the work and beliefs of that great organization which is rapidly spreading all over the world. We shall continue to publish the Russell sermons, for those who so eagerly read them are all very honest and cash-paying subscribers.

Appreciate The Spirit.

J. Hutchinson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., in renewing his subscription, has the following to say:

"We surely appreciate the weekly sermon and Sunday school lesson, and, indeed, the entire paper."

Eagles First Grand Fair.

A very notable event soon to take place in Frostburg will be the "First Grand Fair of Frostburg Aerie 1273, Fraternal Order of Eagles," which will be held in the Shea building, third floor, beginning Saturday, Nov. 14th, and continuing until Nov. 24th. The affair is advertised as "ten days of continuous rounds of pleasure," and it is announced that there will be no old-time features. Everything will be new and up-to-date. A masked parade, and ball will be given, in which all are invited to participate. Special music will be furnished by both of Frostburg's excellent bands.

FOOTBALL.

The second game on Beall High's schedule resulted in a defeat for High by the strong Terra Alta (W. Va.) team. The score was 25 to 13.

Not being able to see the game, I know very little about it, but I understand that the Terra Alta team was much heavier than the Beall High team.

Brophy being out of the game with a lame hip, Jenkins was put in the back field in his place, and showed up well.

The line-up was: Jenkins, full back; Cook and Close, halves; Hamill, quarter back; Sacs, Wilson and Price, ends; Kemp, Price and Sluss, tackles; Hartig, Kemp and Gehauf, guards, and McKenna, center.

SWEENE—NOEL.

Popular Frostburg Girl Marries Popular Young Man of Mt. Savage.

William Charles Sweeney, third son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sweeney, of Mt. Savage, and Miss Jewel Betty Noel, only daughter of City Tax Collector and Mrs. William C. Noel, were married Wednesday night at 9:15 o'clock in St. George's Episcopal Church, Mt. Savage, by the Rev. Joseph T. Ware, rector. James H. Noel, of Midland, uncle of the bride, was best man, and Miss Emma Sweeney, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney left on a two weeks' honeymoon trip, including visits to New York, Baltimore and Washington. Upon their return they will reside in Mt. Savage, where Mr. Sweeney holds a responsible position with the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cook, Ormand street, this place, and a niece of James H. Cook, Mrs. Frank Lee Carl and Mrs. Lloyd Taylor, of Cumberland.

N. I. T. Club.

Last Tuesday, October 20, a number of prominent young ladies of Frostburg organized a club known as the N. I. T. Club. The meeting was held at the home of Miss Sarah Brode on Mechanic street. The following officers were elected: Miss Catherine Evans, president; Miss Pearl Duggan, secretary; Miss Clara Belle Skidmore, treasurer. After the business meeting was over a delightful time was indulged in. Refreshments were served and at 10:30 o'clock the meeting adjourned.

THE HONOR CLASS.

Are You in It? If Not, Why Not?

The Spirit's Honor Class (those favoring us with cash on subscription since the last preceding issue) is a little larger this week than last, but yet not nearly as large as it should be. It comprises the following patrons: Wm. McCluckie, Mrs. C. H. Cannon, J. Hutchinson, F. O. Livengood, Mrs. L. J. West, S. P. Meyers, Howard Yaist and G. N. Wright.

William H. Lacy of Washington, D. C., for three years suffered from derangements of the stomach and digestive tract. He was threatened with an operation.

He tried Mayr's wonderful Stomach Remedy. In a short time he declared he had been restored. He wrote:

"I have suffered three years every day with a miserable feeling and was treated by the best doctors, whom I know made some wonderful cures, but gave me no relief.

"Three weeks ago they sent for a surgeon to operate on me. I read of your treatment and took a bottle. What ever there was the matter with me has disappeared and I feel as well as ever. They say I am a little aged; I am 63 years old. I feel as well as I ever did in my life."

Letters like that come from thousands of users of this remedy all over the country. It will convince with the first dose—no long treatment.

Mayr's wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings quick relief to sufferers from stomach, liver and bowel ailments. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations; many are sure it has saved their lives.

We want all people who have chronic stomach trouble or constipation, no matter of how long standing, to try one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy—one dose will convince you.
