

ELABORATE PROGRAM OF CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES IN CHURCHES

JUDGE GRAY SUNDAY SPEAKER AT WEST

Church Will Also Receive Flags at the Morning Service

CHILDREN IN SPECIAL PROGRAM

All preparations have been completed for the Children's Day program at West Presbyterian Church, tomorrow, and from the nature of the arrangements, the day will doubtless be the greatest in the history of the church. The school will assemble in their hall at 10 o'clock, to arrange for the line of march up into the church auditorium. The service proper in the church will begin at 10:30 o'clock. The program of special exercises at this hour will be featured by an address by Judge George Gray and the presentation to the church for use in the Bible School Hall of two handsome silk flags, one the National flag, and the other the conquest flag of the Church of Christ, the flag being presented by the Christian Endeavor Society of the church. Other interesting and important parts of the program will be the baptism of infants, the religious cantata by the orchestra, under direction of Charles M. Banks. The main floor of the church auditorium will be reserved for the school. There will be no session of the school in the afternoon.

The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 6:30 o'clock, to study the topic, "How Employers and Employees should work together." Miss Ruth Townsend and L. Bower Allen, will lead.

The gospel service at 7:30 o'clock will be for one hour. Dr. Smiley will deliver a brief address. There will be the usual service of song by the people. The choir will sing, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," by McFaren, and Miss Julia Beauchamp, soprano, will sing an offertory selection. The organ numbers for this service will be, "Meditation," by Steane and "Postlude" by Abernathy.

BAPTISM AT McCABE.

The Sunday school of McCabe Church will hold Children's Day services tomorrow morning, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. The orchestra of the school will assist in all the music. There will be infant baptism. The collection for the day will be for the interest fund of the church.

In the evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock McCabe congregation will join with the congregation of Hanover Church in an open air service in the park near Washington street bridge.

TOTS IN HAPPY SUNDAY EXERCISES

Children of Eastlake Presbyterian School to Entertain Tomorrow

MUSICAL AT EVENING SERVICE

Children of Eastlake Presbyterian Church will receive very fitting recognition at the First Presbyterian Church, Market street above Ninth, Rev. J. Ross Stonesifer, minister. The Sunday school will have the morning hour of worship at 10:30 o'clock in its program in observance of this annual festival. Recitations, readings, quartettes, class and departmental exercises, school songs and orchestral selections are assembled in a very interesting and entertaining service. Decorations of a novel and unique character will give a very suggestive platform setting. The pastor has arranged also to baptize infants at the morning service.

THE FRIEND OF SINNERS.

Luke 18:9-14; 19:1-10—June 14.

"I came not to call the righteous, but sinners."—Mark 2:17.

The parable of our lesson shows us the heart attitude of some of the Pharisees and of some of the despised publicans. Both men went up to the Temple to pray. The one said in his heart, "How thankful I am that I am not a sinner, like the majority of men and this poor publican!" I thank God that I am a Pharisee—that I am righteous!" The publican felt differently. The weight of sin was upon him. He could not look up to Heaven. Striking his hand on his bosom, he exclaimed, "God be merciful to me, a sinner!"

From God's standpoint, both men were sinners and needed forgiveness. But the one trusted in his own imperfect works, and asked no forgiveness; the other, realized his blemishes, and prayed for mercy. We are not to give the impression from this that God is more pleased with people who live in sin than with those who strive to the best of their ability to live in harmony with His Law. The lesson is to the contrary. We must all realize that we come short of perfection, and that we need Divine mercy. The sinner who recognizes this is more pleasing to God and nearer forgiveness than the more moral person who fails to see his blemishes.

Zacchaeus, a rich man of that vicinity, was one of those whose curiosity was aroused to see Jesus, of whom he had heard so much. He was not a Pharisee; he did not profess holiness of life. He had accepted a minor office under the Roman government; he was a tax collector for the Romans—a publican. On this account he was despised, and declared to be disloyal to Judaism.

Small of stature, Zacchaeus was unable to see Jesus because of the crowd. He therefore ran ahead and climbed a sycamore tree, that he might have a good view of Jesus as He passed by. Little did he realize that the Master had read his heart and perceived in it honesty; and that therefore he was to be greatly honored. When Jesus came were Zacchaeus was, He looked up at the publican, and told him to come down at once, for He was to be his guest. The summons was gladly received by Zacchaeus, and we may be sure that the whole circumstance was greatly to the disgust of the Pharisees. They all murmured, remarking upon Jesus' coming the guest of one not orthodox.

Evidently the murmuring reached the ears of Zacchaeus, too; for forthwith he addressed the Lord as though urging that these charges against him should not hinder the Master from becoming his guest, and as intimating his desire of repentance." By these words He sought to call attention to the fact that although the Pharisees claimed to be righteous, they were not so. Until they should learn that they are not, and all other members of the fallen race were sin-sick and needed the remedy which only the Redeemer can give, they were not in condition to come to the Lord for forgiveness.

Jesus replied to Zacchaeus, "This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham." From the Lord's standpoint all the sons of Abraham were eligible to discipleship. The one thing required was an honest confession of imperfection, an honest turning from sin, a hearty acceptance of Christ and an endeavor to walk in His steps.

Unquestionably this same principle applies, regardless of what man may think or say to the contrary. The Lord is willing to receive the repentant. No longer is it necessary to be of the natural seed of Abraham in order to be saved.

Two Salvations—One Savior.

Although the human race have all shared the same sentence of death, nevertheless it has pleased God to provide two different salvations from this curse of death. Both are based upon the great sacrifice which Jesus accomplished at Calvary. The first of these is for the church, called out of the world during this Gospel Age, called to a change of nature—from human to spiritual. The second salvation belongs to the Millennial Age. It will be a salvation to human perfection, an uplift out of sin and death conditions, back to the image and likeness of God, lost in Eden.
