RESOURCES OF THE ALASKA'S LANDS

Salt Lake, Jan. 5.—"If the government really goes ahead with its scheme for railroads in Alaska and builds them, it will mean the emigration to that country of hundreds of thousands of people," said John Q. Squires yesterday at the Cullen, on his return from the northwest. "Because the simple matter of the road building itself will enlist the services of several thousand men, and after they have seen the chances up there, many of them will undoubtedly stay. Also they will write back to their friends—and, well, you see the 'end less chain system' that will be established, don't you?"

"Very few people in this country have the faintest idea of the vast wealth of Alaska," he continued, "and most of you labor under the delusion that we wear fur coats there the year round. And a great deal of this erroneous impression is caused by picture postals, and all that sort of rot for tourists."

"Several years ago I attended a meeting of the citizens of Fairbanks at which Delegate Wickersham spoke, and here was the strong point of his speech—'Don't send pictures of dogteams to your friends in the states' said he, 'for there is nothing that has been more advertised, and nothing that will give them a more false idea of the real Alaska than that.' All of which struck me as remarkably true."

"We haven't a hotel in Fairbanks or Nome or Dawson equal to the best four houses in Salt Lake, and if you think that you can't get just as good a meal in our best restaurants as you can in most of the better class of those here or in any other ordinary American city, you have another guess coming."

"I don't know what better you want than you can obtain in Fairbanks, with its 2000 people or so, where you can get everything from strawberries to celery, all grown down the river on the Hot Springs farm. It's true that you have to pay for them, but you must remember that prices are in accordance with wages, which means a leveling of everything else and therefore if you are asked to pay a quarter for a glass of milk in a first-class restaurant you must take into consideration the fact that the aforesaid quarter is the smallest coin in the country, and that where men engaged in common labor on the government roads in the summer get $5 a day and their board, comparative prices must prevail."

"As to mining? Well, the conditions for the average prospector or ordinary miner have not been especially good for several years, but there is never any telling when we'll have an other Dawson. Where so much enormous rich placer ground has existed, there's been a source in quartz and that's never been found yet. But when it is—mark me—California in the days of '49 won't be a marker."

UNCLE SAM IN NEED OF STENOGRAPHERS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Uncle Sam is urgently in need of competent stenographers and typewriters. In fact, the demand far exceeds the supply.

In an effort to supply the government's needs, the civil service commission announces that examination will be held in the larger cities of the country January 27. In this connection, the commission calls attention to the fact that "notwithstanding its efforts, it has been unable to secure a sufficient number of male stenographers and typewritten eligibles to meet the needs of the service in the departments at Washington."

While the entrance salaries for shorthand writers is small, ranging from $40 to $900 a year, the opportunities for promotion are reasonably rapid for those who merit, it is said.

UNGRATEFUL ALL THE HUMAN RACE

O Come, Let Us Give Thanks Unto the Lord; For He Is Good!

Ingratitude a Sin and a Shame—All Should Render Praise—Though Not All May Pray—The Difference. Causes For Thankfulness—Why So Few Respond—Causes of Ingratitude and Discontent—Dumb Brutes More Grateful—The Remedy.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Pastor Russell gave two addresses here today. We report the one from the text, "O give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good; for His mercy endureth forever."—Psalm 136:1.

In beginning, the Pastor declared that ingratitude is one of the least excusable sins, and deplored that it is manifested everywhere. Rich and poor, learned and ignorant, appear to be growing in the spirit of ingratitude, discontent and murmuring. In the face of the world's greatest blessings. With the dawning of the New Era God is showering blessings everywhere. Yet the day of the world's greatest favors is the day of the greatest discontent.

Lessons From the Brutes. The Pastor then demonstrated that even the family dog exhibits more of the spirit of loyalty, reverence, and confidence in his master than man, with a higher intellect, exercises toward the Almighty. The brute creation properly regard man as their god; for this is the Divine arrangement. Man is in the likeness of his Creator, who is God of the universe. With shame we acknowledge that the ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib, yet man seems bent upon ignoring his Maker!

There is a reason for this. The formation of the human brain shows that reverence and gratitude to God would be man's natural disposition; for the organs of spirituality lie at the apex. Why, then, he asked, the endeavor to forget God and to account for His blessings as mere matters of chance?

"An Enemy Hath Done This." Pastor Russell next discussed the parable of the Wheat and the Tares, in which our Lord declares that He sowed good seed—pure truth, intended to bring forth loyal children of God. After the Apostles had fallen asleep in death, Satan oversaw the field with three-fold—false doctrines, which later produced in the Church a terrible crop of demon doctrines to misrepresent God and His purposes.

The Pastor holds that these demon doctrines have driven the masses away from God. It is really to the credit of intelligent people that they refuse to accept the God of the creeds, who, they are told, foreordained the eternal torture of the race long before its creation.

The speaker then pointed out that his text contradicted the creedal teachings. Twenty-five times in this one Psalm is the endlessness of Divine mercy repeated. Yet Christians have long declared that God's mercy is only for the Elect; that the masses will have no mercy; that there will be no mercy beyond the grave—that God's mercy endures merely for what we call the present life!

Why, he asked, do we thus contradict the Almighty? In so doing, we have had Satan's encouragement, and visions and dreams caused by the fallen angels. St. Paul pictures our day exactly, saying, "Many shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of demons."

Tell the Truth—Shame the Devil. The Pastor then urged all who love the Lord to get straight themselves and to help others. The world should know what real cause it has for gratitude to God. Mankind should be told that Christ's death will be the full offset of Adam's sin; and that during Messiah's thousand-year Reign humanity will rise out of sin and death to righteousness and life everlasting.

The Bible Hell is the tomb. Sheol, Hades, from which all will have opportunity for resurrection to perfection of life, the wilfully wicked alone dying the Second Death, illustrated by Gehenna. On the basis of knowledge of God's great Plan of Salvation, the world will be ready to acknowledge God's mercy and to render thanks.

Thanksgiving Day. Next the Pastor discussed Thanksgiving Day, set apart for thanksgiving to God for the blessings of the year past. With the majority it has degenerated into a mere holiday. Unbelief has grown with higher education; for the educated, repelled by misrepresentations of the Almighty, have turned away from the God of the Bible, and are instructing the rising generation in infidelity—unbelief in the Bible as the Word of God.

The only way back to God, faith, contentment and thanksgiving, he declared, is through the dissemination of the knowledge of the glory of God—that His mercy endureth forever, that He has only begun His salvation in gathering the Church, and that it shall eventually extend to whosoever will, during Messiah's Reign.

The Pastor Russell's letters for six weeks past have gone astray, and have just arrived. They will now be published daily until all the missing letters have appeared.

Eugenics. To judge by the fruit stores, horticultural eugenics have been practiced for some time.
